WHY STUDY IN NORTHERN IRELAND?

As the largest city and capital of Northern Ireland, Belfast is home to approximately 673,000 people and is one hour and forty-five minutes north of Dublin by car. Northern Ireland is part of the United Kingdom, so students should expect a mix of Irish and British cultures. Belfast has the lowest cost of living out of all major UK cities.

STUDENT LIFE

The campus is close to the city center, so students are never far from the shops, restaurants and sights of Belfast. With pubs, restaurants, study areas, a bank, and a post office, everything students might need is also close by on-campus. There are four chaplaincy centers, a Student's Union with shops and recreation options, and a choice of over 50 different sports clubs. The university also has excellent student facilities, including the Physical Education Center (PEC) which provides students many options for individual and group fitness.

HOUSING

Queen's has some of the best housing options in the world, all located within walking distance. Styles include dormitories, rooms and apartments. There are limited options for just one semester; therefore students are advised to apply early. Accommodation may be reserved for a minimum of one semester, must be paid in full, and is available at an extra daily rate for those arriving early.
